Preface

This is the user manual for the Current Procedural Terminology (CPT) software package. CPT codes are used for reporting medical services and procedures performed by physicians. CPT V. 6.0 provides the software to update the CPT files.

This manual is designed to assist a broad range of users in fully utilizing all functions offered by the product.

Introduction

Current Procedural Terminology (CPT) codes are used for reporting medical services and procedures performed by physicians. Their purpose is to provide a uniform language that will accurately describe medical, surgical, and diagnostic services, thereby providing an effective means for reliable nationwide communication among physicians, patients, and third parties. This system of terminology is the most widely accepted nomenclature for the reporting of physician procedures and services under government and private health insurance programs.

CPT V. 6.0 provides the software to update the CPT files. The software includes all CPT codes to code outpatient services for reimbursement and workload purposes (as determined by the American Medical Association) and the Common Procedure Coding System from the Health Care Financing Administration (HCPCS). These codes may also be utilized to report inpatient services in certain instances.

In addition to the National CPT and HCPCS codes, the VA also uses the following VA specific HCPCS format codes. These codes are not included in the HCPCS or CPT manuals.

W-CODES (VA NATIONAL CODES)

Package Management

The CPT codes are an American Medical Association (AMA) copyrighted product. Their use is governed by the terms of the agreement between the Department of Veterans Affairs and the AMA.

Printing of any CPT information that will be released external to the VA (excluding areas of billing/fee basis processing, administrative management, clinical management including research, and patient coding/summarizing) must include the following notice: "CPT five-digit codes and/or descriptions only are copyright 1988 AMA (or such other date or publication of the work as defined in the Berne Implementation Act of 1988, formerly the Copyright Revision Act of 1976)."

Package Operation

On-line Help

When the format of a response is specific, there usually is a Help message provided for that prompt. Help messages provide lists of acceptable responses or format requirements which provide instruction on how to respond.

A Help message can be requested by typing one or two question marks. For some prompts, the system will list the possible answers from which you may choose. Any time choices appear with numbers, the system will usually accept the number or the name.

Option Documentation

The second portion of the Package Operation Section contains a brief overview of each option followed by an example of the output generated. Each report requires a margin width of 132 columns. The only prompts in each option are device prompts.

CPT Modifiers by Code Range [ICPT MODIFIERS BY RANGE]

This option will sort and list all modifiers by range of CPT codes to which they apply. An abbreviated example of this output, which requires a 132 column margin width, is provided below.
